GSR stated that the current pad design for Summerville is 3,484 square feet. GSR stated that currently there are several cities in the initial planning phase of installing splash pads but none has begun construction. Questions also arose about annual maintenance and how much water the pad would use. GSR recommended an annual check of the recirculation system. GSR explained that the splash pad uses 331 gallons of water every minute with a 2,500-gallon recirculation reservoir.
